

A CLOUD PROVIDER IS FOR LIFE

[or should be]

Here's how to ensure you make the right decision

No two organisations are the same, so your cloud solution (and your provider) has to be unique and special

The world of cloud can be complex

83% of enterprise workloads will be cloud-based by 2020¹

66% already have a central, dedicated cloud team¹

30% of IT budgets are allocated to cloud computing¹

94% of enterprises already use a cloud service¹

Companies use 5 different cloud platforms on average¹

By 2022, cloud spending will outstrip traditional IT spend²

Know what you want
Explore the ways cloud technologies can empower your business

Easily deploy new tech for ongoing competitive advantage

Easily scale up and down to handle fluctuations in workload

Transform productivity with collaboration tools that empower your people

Be future-ready to seize new opportunities and succeed where others fail

Maximise flexibility for short-term and strategic projects

Boost your agility adapt quickly to customer and market demands

Save costs with optimised infrastructure usage and reduced hardware

Find a partner who truly "gets you"

That means asking the right questions...

"ARE YOU EXPERIENCED?"

How long have they provided cloud services, and to what types of client?

"ARE YOU VERSATILE?"

Do they offer a bespoke mix of public, private and multi-cloud environments?

"ARE YOU COMPLETE?"

Do they have the tools and third-party relationships to provide a top-notch client experience?

"ARE YOU CREATIVE?"

Can they handle complex interdependencies, inflexible architectures or out-of-date technology?

"ARE YOU SUPPORTIVE?"

Will they offer bespoke planning and guidance throughout a complex migration process?

"ARE YOU CHANGING?"

Can they provide a cloud solution to any scale, no matter what your size?
